

NEWS RELEASE

Interrupter Invoked for Diesel Oil Prices

April 15, 2026 – Effective at 12:01 a.m. on Thursday, April 16, 2026, the price of diesel oil will be adjusted. This change is necessary due to a significant shift in the market price.

The price of gasoline is NOT affected by this interruption.

The benchmark price for diesel is based on the average daily market price of refined diesel traded on the New York Mercantile Exchange (NYMEX). That average price is then converted into Canadian dollars.

The retail price paid at the pumps is the benchmark price with the following added:

- wholesale margin
- retailer markup with added adjustment
- cost of clean fuel regulations
- transportation allowance
- winter blending (when applicable)
- and taxes

The Energy Board monitors the markets for gasoline and diesel oil daily and, should conditions warrant, may set a new price at any time.
